MCPL programs stress safe driving to teens

The Middle Country Public Library has facilitated teen safe driving programs for the community for the past eight years as part of the Allstate Readiness Series, a yearlong educational and interactive series sponsored by the Allstate Foundation.

The library has partnered with Al Ferrari, a Town of Brookhaven Safety Town educator, who helps teens prepare to "Survive the Drive." At Safety Town, teens are instructed in proper automobile operation and driver safety, first in the classroom, then through a hands-on experience driving electric vehicles in the specially designed village course.

For more information about the Allstate Readiness Series, visit www.readinessbeginswithme.org or call 631-585-9393, ext. 295. To learn more about the Town of Brookhaven's Safety Town, email SafetyTown@brookhaven.org.
